

CHILD'S DAY

What to expect:

I love capturing what motherhood/fatherhood/grandparenthood is all about in its everyday form (the day-to-day things that may seem small, but truly are what life is about)! And, I try to capture it all in the child's perspective (many times down on their eye level). Each Child's Day session is unique to that particular child and I try to keep that in mind while editing. I will travel to your home whenever is best for you and your child. I typically spend an hour during our visit. The first couple minutes I like to play with your child to get him or her to warmup (if they're a little camera shy, don't worry, I have some tricks up my sleeve that usually work!).

What to keep in mind:

Plan our visit around your child's most happy/active time of day (possibly after naptime, feedings, and/or when they first wakeup). I love to tell a story about your child--his or her surroundings--which means I'll usually be filming items in your home that represent your child (i.e. pictures, the outside of the home, the child's room, play area, etc.). Also, I'd love to get as many clips with your in it with your child!

Think of 5 things your child loves:

...this could be anything from:

- favorite snack/food/drink(s)
- favorite toy(s)
- favorite trick(s)
- favorite playtime activity(s)
- favorite book(s)
- favorite person
- favorite outfit
- favorite saying(s)

Really this video is all about your child--so whatever floats his or her boat is great (little stress, really)! Most times the best clips I use are the ones that occurred unplanned! Also, these are great mother's day/father's day/Christmas/Birthday gifts/etc. for those that are usually hardest to get for!!
